HOOVER ATTACKS PLANS TO BLOCK REORGANIZATION

Congress Must Keep "Hands Off" or Give Roosevelt Much Greater Power, President Tells Newspapermen.

COCHRAN OPPOSES WHITE HOUSE PLEA

House Chairman Declares Reshuffling of Executive Establishment Would Be Unfair.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—(AP)—President Hoover sternly assailed congressional leaders today for opposing his method of regrouping government bureaus, but the democrats on Capitol Hill went resolutely forward with their plans for killing the chief executive's proposals, undeterred by his protest.

The president called his first press conference since September to tell newspapermen that if any reorganization of the government departments is to be more than "make-believe," congress either must "keep its hands off" or it must give President-elect Roosevelt virtually a free rein.

The reaction in congress was immediate. Chairman Cochran, of the house expenditures committee, announced he would call his group together Thursday and would then seek to have reported out a resolution he has drawn to block the entire Hoover program for realigning and regrouping 58 separate bureaus into nine divisions under existing departments.

Further, Cochran said it would be "unjust and most unfair" to the president-elect to reshuffle so large a portion of the executive establishment just a few weeks before he took office. He asserted the intention of the democratic leaders to veto his reorganizing power in Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The president said the opposition to his plan in congress constitutes a "backward step." He added: "The same opposition has now arisen which has defeated every effort at reorganization for 25 years. The chairman of one house committee (Cochran) discloses: 'Many members of the administration itself oppose Mr. Hoover's plan, but that he had not called them to testify because he saw no reason to embarrass them.'"

"He could add that outside groups, congressional committees and members of congress fear a reduction of influence in the administration of these functions."

The president defended in detail various of his proposals, particularly the creation of a public works division, and then expressed his opposition to the present law, giving congress the power to veto proposed consolidations within 60 days after the time he issued the regrouping orders.

"Either congress must keep its hands off now," he said, "or they must give to my successor much larger powers of independent action than given to any president if there is ever to be reorganization. And that authority, to be effective, should be free of the limitations in the law passed last year which prevent the abolition of functions and which pre-

DR. BAIRD HEADS EDUCATION BOARD

Seventh Warder Named on Fortieth Ballot. Fling Is First Vice President.

Dr. Noah W. Baird, seventh ward commissioner, Tuesday night was elected president of the Atlanta board of education as the weary members polled their 40th ballot. He won over Frank R. Fling, eighth ward commissioner, whose attempt to withdraw and select Baird by unanimous acclaim was blocked when Commissioner Jack Penn, who nominated Fling, declined to permit him to quit.

George W. Powell succeeded in obtaining the permission of Mrs. Julia O'Keefe Nelson, who nominated him, to withdraw from the race, but Powell's strength went to the seventh ward commissioner, insuring his selection. Powell voted for Baird.

Powell's withdrawal was engineered by Mrs. Z. Y. Peterson, eleven ward commissioner, who made one of the most successful "coups" ever seen in the board.

Baird and his sponsor, S. C. Noland, already had obtained the floor to withdraw Baird from the race, but Powell insisted that Baird remain in and that he (Powell) be permitted to quit.

If Baird had quit, Fling would have been selected president. It was said.

Powell was elected second vice president; Mrs. Fannie Mae Weston, secretary; and Thomas C. Irwin, of the Citizens & Southern National bank, treasurer, in the first round of the first National bank.

When he relinquished the chair, J. Irwin, 1922 president, called the meeting to order and called for support on board members' support of new officers, to stand staunchly behind the schools and to present a united front against school funds taken to force city officials to approve vouchers for the amount of the state deficit inasmuch as the schools have operated within their budget.

Gilliam insisted that the city could not underwrite a deficit caused by the state, and cited the fact that all other city employees submitted to two-week payless vacations.

COMMITTEE BACKS FARM BILL FIXING MINIMUM PRICES

Vote of 14 to 8 Sends Emergency Relief Measure to House for Debate Thursday.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—(AP)—An emergency relief bill designed to increase farm incomes by hundreds of millions of dollars through the establishment of minimum prices on major agricultural commodities was ready tonight for consideration by the house.

A 14-to-8 vote of approval sent the bill to the agriculture committee to the floor, where debate is to begin Thursday.

The bill closely approximates the domestic allotment plan drafted by farm leaders at a pre-holiday meeting attended by Henry Morgenthau Jr., advisor of Governor Roosevelt. It appears to be a compromise between the ideas of the president-elect.

Chairman Jones, author of the bill, explained that under its terms "any time wheat, cotton and tobacco are below the pre-war basis, an adjustment charge is to be levied on the processing of the commodity sufficient to bring the price up to pre-war levels on that portion of the commodity which goes into domestic consumption."

"These premiums will be paid to producers who comply with the requirements," Jones said. "The plan is put into effect gradually as to hogs, it provides that only those producers who voluntarily reduce their acreage or production shall be beneficiaries of the premiums."

Only two democrats—Nelson, of Missouri, and Best, of Illinois—voted against the bill in committee. Three republicans—Haugen, of Iowa; Ketchum, of Michigan; and Hope, of Kansas—supported it. Representative Clark, republican, New York, will file a minority report against the bill.

Already it has been attacked on the floor by Representative Schaefer, republican, Wisconsin, as a "monstrous super-sales tax" and it was a major argument against the bill.

"Governor Roosevelt was represented as being horrified at the suggestion of a manufacturers' sales tax," Senator W. D. Pearson, 61, shot dead by D. F. Lynch, 56, near Monticello.

Borah Launches Move To Cut Purchasing Power of Dollar

Increase in Value of Silver Linked With Plan To Inflate Federal Currency To Aid Business.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—(AP)—Senator Borah is preparing a bill to make the dollar buy less and by its enactment he hopes to help the farmers and improve economic conditions generally.

The Idaho senator's intention was made known today in a brief flurry of debate in which he found he had the backing of several colleagues as the result of a growing demand for currency legislation.

ROOSEVELT PARLEY SLATED TO CENTER ON ECONOMY, BEER

Congressional Leaders Meet and Discuss Budget in Preparation for Conference.

By D. HAROLD OLIVER. WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—(AP)—Meeting the nation's billion-dollar deficit by slashing expenditures to a minimum, and prompt passage of beer legislation, are most likely to form the principle themes of the Roosevelt-congressional conference in New York Thursday night.

This was indicated strongly today after a preliminary meeting of the 11 senate and house democratic leaders who have been invited by President-elect Roosevelt to discuss the whole legislative situation with him at his New York city home.

Specific methods of balancing the budget, including the sales tax, were considered at the three-hour conference, but Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, the senate floor leader, said no conclusions were reached.

Mr. Roosevelt has been represented as opposed to new general taxation at this time, such as the sales tax. Congressional party leaders are trying to avoid it and are striving assiduously to find other revenue channels.

Some of them, however, have indicated a willingness to take a general manufacturers' excise tax as a last resort.

Meeting Called Off. Shortly after the meeting in Senator Robinson's office, democrats of the house went to meet with means committee and called off a long-planned meeting for tomorrow to consider new taxation proposals.

Chairman Collier announced the indefinite postponement of the absence of six members on account of illness. There were indications, however, that the committee had decided after their talk with senate leaders to await the Roosevelt conference before grappling with the tax question.

Announcing the results of the Roosevelt conference meeting, Senator Robinson said: "At this preliminary meeting special discussion and consideration was given to the deficit and to possible means of balancing the budget, which embraces proposals for reducing expenditures."

COUNTY OFFICES ASK MORE FUNDS

Only Two Departments Fail To Request Appropriation Hike in 1933.

On the eve of the county commissioners' reorganization meeting, to be held today, which may extend into an adjourned meeting for the purpose of fixing the county employees' salaries for 1933, George F. Longino, chairman of the finance committee, Tuesday made public the salary budgets recommended to the board by the seven departmental heads who were formerly under the fee system.

On the eve of the county commissioners' reorganization meeting, to be held today, which may extend into an adjourned meeting for the purpose of fixing the county employees' salaries for 1933, George F. Longino, chairman of the finance committee, Tuesday made public the salary budgets recommended to the board by the seven departmental heads who were formerly under the fee system.

In making public the figures, Mr. Longino stated that at today's meeting he will present comparative salary figures for the last several years. Of the seven departmental heads who have filed their tentative salary lists for 1933, only Ordinary Thomas H. Jeffries and Solicitor-General John A. Boykin have not asked for increases.

The tax collector, whose budget has been $2,864, asks for an increase to $4,214 so that two extra men may be added to his force. The salary list for the tax receiver is $2,677.50 and the highest salary on the list is $275.50 per month. The new salary list recommended by Guy A. Moore totals $3,550 and the highest salary is $425.

The sheriff asks for a hike from the present $6,205 to $7,350, recommending salary increases for all but one of his men. The clerk of superior court, after adding to some salaries and taking from others, asks for an increase from $7,740 to $7,790, the increase being a $50 salary for one man.

The ordinary's office has a monthly salary list of $1,100. Neither asked for an increase. The solicitor of criminal court asks for a hike from $1,913.33 to $1,963.58, which represents an increase of one man.

Today's reorganization meeting will be held at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon and Mr. Longino is to be named chairman.

Senate Body Drafting Repeal Resolution

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—(AP)—A senate judiciary subcommittee today attempted to complete the draft of a resolution to repeal the 18th amendment.

Chairman Blaine called a meeting of the group in an effort to get the repeal measure out of the way before the subcommittee starts work on the house 3.2 per cent beer bill with public hearings Saturday.

With membership of the group nearly agreed upon the phraseology of the resolution, Blaine expressed confidence it could be finished and voted out tomorrow.

The tentative draft, framed by the committee before the Christmas recess, provides for repeal of the 18th amendment, protection for dry states against liquor importations from adjacent wet territory, and authorization for congress to legislate against the saloon.

LATEST STRUGGLE STEP IN CONQUEST, SHANGHAI CLAIMS

Soong Charges Shanhaikwan Capture Is Part of Well-Laid Plot To Extend Manchurian Thrust Into China Proper.

By the Associated Press. Shanghai, new focal point of Sino-Japanese difficulties, fell before three Japanese attacks Tuesday which left the ancient city a smoking ruin, said advisers reaching Peking today.

Five hundred Chinese soldiers were reported killed in bitter street fighting, and casualties among civilians, while not estimated carefully, were believed to be very high.

It was understood the Chinese were gathering their forces at a point near the city for another battle, and that three additional Japanese warships had arrived off Chingwangtao, a few miles south of Shanghai.

Japanese military communiques to Tokyo said eight Japanese soldiers were killed and 31 wounded during the Shanhaikwan conflict. These reports also set forth that quiet prevailed early Wednesday at Shanhaikwan.

Reports to Tokyo from Tientsin were that the Chinese were preparing troop trains to carry General Chang Hsiao-liang's reinforcements to the front if the conflict should be resumed.

From Chinese sources at Shanghai Tuesday came the charge that the week-end struggle for the city of Shanhaikwan on the Jehol border merely was another step in the fully laid plans for a Japanese invasion of Mongolia and North China.

Dr. T. V. Soong, Chinese finance minister, claimed that the attack on the city by the Chinese wall was made as a prelude to a general extension of the Manchurian conquest into China proper.

Meantime, however, Tokyo officials announced that the Japanese command at Shanhaikwan had been ordered to prevent the conflict spreading further.

One factor in this decision apparently was the desire to avoid friction with foreign forces, including American, stationed in the Shanhaikwan area.

A Japanese war office spokesman said the Shanhaikwan clash was "in no wise connected with the intention of the Japanese army ultimately to make Jehol unmanageable as a part of Manchukuo."

Jehol is the province between Manchuria and China proper. In Peiping General Chang Hsiao-liang, commander-in-chief of Manchuria by the Japanese more than a year ago, was warned by Japanese military and naval officials that he

Hapeville Will Go to Court Over Mayor's Vote in Council

Georgia courts will be asked to settle the question of whether the mayor of Hapeville has the right to vote in a councilmanic election of city officials, and as a result, the election of a city clerk, chief of police and all other department heads for that suburb has been postponed.

This action was taken following an uproarious meeting of Hapeville council Tuesday night when, after the vote was cast, Mayor Whitaker as city clerk stood three against two for Mayor Quincy Arnold assumed the privilege of casting a vote. No further action can be taken, it was said, until the tie is broken.

Aerial Hosts, Led by Akron, Turn Noses Toward Miami

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 3.—(AP)—Nose naval reserve aviation base here for the Akron. Meanwhile, 68 airplanes from the army field at Langley, Va., were en route here, stopping at Savannah, Ga., tonight. The army fliers are centering upon Miami in one of a series of observations and training trips which, normally occurring about twice a month, have lately been interrupted by inclement weather conditions.

The Akron, on a training trip to Guantanamo, Cuba, is due to be received here with pomp and ceremony tomorrow afternoon. The welcome will be accorded by city and state officials and witnessed by a number of government officials. A new air ring mast has been erected at the pursuit planes commanded by Major B. P. Jones. Two new bombers, one of which was to be christened the City of Savannah at that city today, preceded the pursuit and bombardment planes. Fifteen planes of the ninth army observation squadron left Mitchell field today to participate in the air meet and to take a month's gunnery practice at Chapman field, new army practice field here.

Twenty-two civilian planes left the Aviation Country Club field at Hicksville, N. Y., this morning on the first leg of the second annual amateur air pilots' winter cruise to Florida. Richmond, Va., was billed for the first overnight stop, after a two-hour pause at Washington, with stops tomorrow at Greensboro, N. C., Augusta, Ga., and Jacksonville, Fla.

The fleet will hop off Thursday morning from Daytona Beach, Fla., for a 250-mile race to Miami in the Florida year-round club's handicap. The handicap carries a trophy donated by Henry L. Doherty, public utilities magnate, and $2,500 in cash awards.

Approximately 75 civilian planes, centering today and tomorrow toward the eastern seaboard, with Daytona Beach as their first goal, are expected to enter the race.

Meanwhile, marine corps planes from Quantico, Va., Washington, D. C., and Nicaragua were scheduled to arrive here in the next two days for a general reunion.

About a dozen planes, piloted by commercial and sportsmen pilots, refueled at Candler field Tuesday on their way to the Miami aerial festival. John H. Candler, well-known Atlanta sportsman pilot, who will take part in the air amateurs' race from Daytona Beach to Miami, Tuesday took off for Florida in his private plane, with Charles King and W. A. Ward Jr., as passengers.

FLORIDA INSTALLS GOVERNOR SHOLTZ

New Executive Promises
Administration of Economy and Efficiency.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Jan. 3.—(AP)—Before thousands who thronged the inaugural place at the east entrance to the capitol, Dave Sholtz, who took to the people a campaign platform for "a new deal," today became the twenty-sixth governor of Florida. In his first message, after receiving the oath of office from Chief Justice Rivers Buford, of the state supreme court, the 41-year-old chief executive pledged himself to an administration of strictest economy consistent with efficiency, and to discourage new and additional sources of revenue.

He succeeded Doyle E. Carlton, who in a farewell address, declared he retired "happy in the consciousness that he had kept the faith, and that the fortitude of a courageous people has thus far carried us safely through the most critical peace-time period in the history of our nation." Carlton expressed the wish that his administration will be remembered as one of "honor."

Sholtz, who created a sensation with his victory in the June primaries and then overcame his republican opposition in the general election, told the people today he realized he had been elected because he promised "an economical administration in which the present costs of state government would be reduced and the burdens on the taxpayer made lighter."

"Such promises," he asserted, "were not for the purpose of charming the imagination to the end that political preferment should be bestowed on me. I meant what I said and I mean it today."

Sholtz said the "business of Florida is the highest business in Florida" and that he intended to devote the next three months, before opening of the legislature in April, to a detailed study of Florida's problems before offering specific recommendations for new laws or changes in laws.

With him was inducted a general assembly in which the republicans have a margin of two votes in the house and 15 in the senate. All of the general officers under Mr. Green are democrats.

LANKFORD ADVOCATES ADDITIONAL CURRENCY

By GLADSTONE WILLIAMS.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—(AP)—Discussing the deficiency appropriation bill on the floor of the house today, Representative William C. Lankford, of Georgia, said the "real trouble with the country is that there is not enough currency to take care of the ordinary needs of our citizens."

Earlier this session Mr. Lankford introduced a bill to provide for the acceptance of farm land securities on the basis for the issuance of currency. It is now before the committee on banking and currency. He urged his colleagues to lose no time in enacting his measures into law if they expected an early return of prosperity.

Representative Lankford delivered his speech after members of the state delegation conferred earlier in the day with Hugh A. Cariphis Jr., prominent business leader of Windsor, Ga., who discussed means of bringing about a speedy economic recovery for the farmers.

Mr. Cariphis called upon Georgia's delegation in congress to lend their support to any measure looking to the restoration of the normal purchasing power of farmers.

"Agriculture," he declared, "is in desperate straits and farming conditions in Georgia are particularly distressing. I am convinced that we will not experience economic recovery until farmers have been supplied with more and cheaper money. Farming must be placed on an equal footing with other industries."

Among those who talked with Mr. Cariphis were Senators George and Cohen and Representatives Wood, Rampeck, Cox, Parker, Mobley, Vinson and Tarrar.

Foreign Investments Of U. S. Show Big Loss

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—(AP)—American investments abroad, having a face value of $17,163,920,500 at the end of 1932, are worth in current values only about nine billion dollars, it was estimated today by Dr. Max Winkler, of the New York Stock Exchange firm of Bernard, Winkler & Co., and head of the American Council on Foreign Investments, Inc.

Our foreign investments, measured by par or face value as distinguished from actual market values, fell more than $8,000,000,000 in the year from a total of $17,986,106,000 on January 1, 1932. This, said Winkler, marks the first time in the history of the United States as a creditor nation that our investments have declined in face amount from the preceding year.

This decline, he said, was due to a large repatriation of foreign, particularly European and Japanese, dollar bonds; to repatriation of matured loans; and to operations of sinking funds in respect to existing issues.

INTERSTATE SALES TAX IS SOUGHT BY McKEOWN

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—(AP)—A bill calling for a privilege tax on manufacturing and selling in interstate commerce was introduced today by Representative McKeown, democrat, Oklahoma.

The levy on manufacturers would be $50 for each $10,000 worth of goods sold in interstate commerce. The same rate would apply to wholesale sales, but the tax for manufacturers who sell direct to the consumer would be $100.

Chain stores would also be taxed $100 on each $10,000 in commodities sold interstate, and the same rate would apply to mail order houses.

DR. WILHELM CUNO DIES IN GERMANY

Former Chancellor and Shipping Magnate Passes of Heart Attack.

HAMBURG, Germany, Jan. 3.—(AP)—Dr. Wilhelm Cuno, former chancellor of Germany and general manager of the Hamburg-American Steamship line, died today.

The shipping magnate was 56 years old. He died suddenly when he suffered a heart attack as he was about to start with his wife for a vacation ordered by his physician.

Dr. Cuno had suffered several days from heart trouble. His physician was summoned yesterday and insisted that he must start on a vacation as soon as possible.

Dr. Cuno was born July 2, 1876, at Suhl, Thuringia. After completing a university career he entered the civil service and soon became counselor in the Prussian finance ministry.

During the war he held a leading position with the war-food ministry. In the winter of 1917 he left the government service and became a director of the Hamburg-American Shipping Line, succeeding Albert Ballin as president of the latter died December 12, 1918.

Established U. S. Relations.
Dr. Cuno was the first German shipping representative to seek re-establishment of shipping relations with the United States after the World War and succeeded in negotiations with the United American Lines for a joint trans-Atlantic service.

His success as a negotiator made him one of the most sought German industrial leaders for public service.

Besides holding directorships in various other shipping and transportation companies, he became a member of the reichs economic council and of the Hamburg Chamber of Commerce.

He acted as economic expert during armistice negotiations at Versailles and during the Brussels, Spa and Geneva economic conferences.

Becoming chancellor of Germany in November, 1922, he organized the ill-fated "passive resistance" against France's activities in Ruhr valley which Gustav Stresemann quickly ended when he succeeded Dr. Cuno August 12, 1923.

Polished Figure.
Dr. Cuno, who was one of the most polished figures in society and diplomacy and who was often mentioned for ambassador to the United States and then president to succeed Von Hindenburg, seemed ill at ease when facing the rough and tumble of the reichstag heckling, which helped to hasten the end of his chancellorship.

After his resignation he went to the United States to renew connections with American shipping, friends and then re-entered the Hamburg-American directorate, becoming the president of it in May, 1926.

In 1929 he organized the Anglo-German Association, of which Lord Reading was the British chairman and Dr. Cuno the German chairman. He was president of the association and politically was a member of no party, but sought to bring the national socialists into a coalition of the rightist parties.

Dr. Cuno made his last visit to the United States in 1931, when he presided at the annual meeting of the industries at Columbia University. Because of his shipping activities, his relations with this country have been important. He was president of the Hamburg Rotary Club and took a prominent part in international activities of that organization.

Man, Woman Slain In Coal Mine Clash

TAYLORVILLE, Ill., Jan. 3.—(AP)—Bullets splintered through the streets of near-by Kincaid tonight as the Central Illinois coal mine wage war, alternately subsiding and flaring since last September, broke out anew. Two deaths, one a woman, and 12 persons wounded were added to the mounting casualty list. Authorities said apparently the woman was struck by a stray bullet.

The dead were Vincent Rodems, Springfield, a working miner, and Mrs. Emma Comulato, 51, Taylorville.

Working miners emerging from the No. 7 mine of the Peabody Coal Co., at Kincaid, found picket lines confronting them. Someone fired a shot. Other shots followed. When the melee was over, Rodems and Mrs. Comulato were dead. The others, including a mine guard, were injured.

The Kincaid shooting climaxed weeks of violence in the area.

RICHMOND MAYOR SEVERS RELATIONS WITH NEWSPAPERS

RICHMOND, Va., Jan. 3.—(AP)—Mayor J. Fulmer Bright today severed relations with the Richmond Press.

"I am growing weary of the open hostility and destructive criticism of the Richmond Press," asserted the mayor of the Virginia capital in a signed statement today.

"I believe the city of Richmond is being injured throughout the state of Virginia by these endless editorials of condemnation and I am, therefore, for a time at least (to use a polite expression) severing diplomatic relations with the Press," the statement said.

The most recent criticism of the mayor by Richmond papers centered around his attitude toward Thomas H. Stone, leader and members of the Richmond unemployed council.

Stone visited the mayor's office to present a protest from the council and Dr. Bright first ordered him thrown out but subsequently had him arrested on a disorderly conduct charge. Stone was fined $10 in police court and noted an appeal. The mayor appeared as principal witness against him.

The incident received prominent display in the news columns and was followed by editorial expressions criticizing the city executive on the ground that he was attempting to limit the right of free expression and petitions and that such an attitude would stir up rather than prevent disorders.

CUT SEEN IN FUNDS FOR TRAINING CAMPS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—(AP)—Probability that the war department bill will provide funds for 45 drills a year for the national guard, but will cut the sum for the citizens military training camps was seen today by Representative Collins, of Mississippi, chairman of the committee now in charge of the war bill.

He is an advocate of use of all modern methods to increase the offensive power of the soldier but opposes large personnel.

Hearings have been concluded but the bill has not yet been drafted.

Rail Pass Restricted To Working Class Only

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 3.—(AP)—That badge of distinction and expediency—the railroad pass—has been restricted to the working railroad.

The dozen major lines operating through Kansas City started 1933 by issuing free rides only to officers, employees, company attorneys and surgeons who devote substantially all their time to the road. The courtesy exchange with other roads was eliminated.

GRAHAM WEST BEGINS FINANCE SHEET WORK

Preliminary steps looking towards compilation of the January finance sheet were begun Tuesday by R. Graham West, city controller, as he asked department heads to list their actual needs for the new year.

West probably will complete the estimate by Thursday and Alderman Ed A. Gilliam, chairman of the 1933 finance committee, said he would call his committee as soon as is practicable to begin pruning a sheet "which will provide Atlanta with a balanced budget."

Other important council committees also prepared Tuesday to begin consideration of an assorted group of problems. Most of them will hold meetings next week, the week before the scheduled meeting of council, January 16.

One problem which the finance committee will face will be a resolution of the Atlanta Council of Parent-Teacher Associations asking adequate funds to give health protection to the poor of Atlanta.

Dr. John B. Kennedy, city health officer, said Tuesday that the department now is able to perform all duties required of it, but that during the recent influenza epidemic facilities were taxed beyond capacity, and that any curtailment in the department probably would react to the disadvantage of those in distress.

Handkerchief Leads Searchers for McCoin

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Jan. 3.—(AP)—Finding of a handkerchief, the chief took searchers for the body of R. S. McCoin, missing Henderson (N. C.) attorney, into the mountains near Indian Springs, 15 miles west of here.

The handkerchief was found by Merle Garmon, Indian Springs youth, who reported to police seeing an automobile resembling the one belonging to McCoin parked on the mountain road last week and a camp fire in the woods.

He said he determined to investigate today. After discovering where the fire had been built, he found the handkerchief near by.

State police turned the handkerchief over to a local chemist for analysis.

DETECTIVES RECOVER $303,478 IN PROPERTY

Good Record Made by Department During Year, Poole's Report To Show.

Homicides, bandits, burglars and automobile thieves kept the detective force of Atlanta busy during 1932, according to the incomplete report of Chief of Detectives A. Lamar Poole, made public at police headquarters Tuesday. The sleuths made a good showing, according to the figures in the report, which revealed that property valued at $303,478 was recovered, as compared to 1931's record of 2,641 stolen and 2,399 recovered.

During the year five alleged murderers were sentenced to be electrocuted and 13 got life terms in prison; 25 cases of manslaughter resulted in a total of 246 years in sentences; 160 cases of burglary brought 680 years in prison for the convicted burglars; 108 cases of robbery brought 708 years, and 1,133 liquor arrests resulted in courts imposing a grand total of sentences of 660 years.

There were fewer stolen automobiles during 1932, the partial report showed, than during 1931. In 1932 there were 2,150 machines stolen, of which number 2,088 were recovered, as compared to 1931's record of 2,641 stolen and 2,399 recovered.

BLANTON OPPOSES SPECIAL SESSION

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—(AP)—Representative Blanton, of Texas, today told the house there was no necessity for a special session of the new congress and that if one was called, it would result in unpopularity of the democratic administration.

"I hope those in authority will advise the president-elect there is no necessity whatever for a special session," he said. "It would be detrimental to the interests of the people of the United States."

"The people don't want to be put to the unnecessary expense of a special session."

"It was an expensive special session that destroyed the Hoover administration."

Fourth Aspirant for Legislative Office Opens Headquarters Here.

Increasing activity in legislative circles was noted Tuesday as the time for the calling of the house and senate together for organization purposes next Monday grew near.

Chief among the day's activities was the opening of an Atlanta office by Representative Ellis D. Arnall, of Coweta county, one of the three candidates for speaker pro tem, of the house of representatives. Arnall has his headquarters at the Wincoff hotel, but announced Tuesday night that a second office would be opened later in the week.

The arrival of Arnall makes the fourth candidate for legislative office to open headquarters. Senator S. Morton Turner, of Quitman, and Senator Hamilton McWhorter, of Lexington, candidates for the presidency of the senate, have offices at the Ansley and Henry Grady, respectively, and Representative E. D. Rivers, of Lanier county, also has offices at the Henry Grady.

Representative Ernest M. Davis, of Mitchell county, one of Rivers' three opponents, opened headquarters at the Piedmont hotel Tuesday. The other two speakership candidates, Representative J. T. (Pat) Gillen, of Bibb county, and Representative Marion Allen, of Baldwin county, are expected to complete campaign plans in a day or two as are Representative George Eckford, of Fulton county, and Representative William Brunson, of Laurens county. Arnall's opponents for the post of speaker pro tem, both of whom are to have offices at the Piedmont.

Interest Tuesday also was centered in the announcement from Columbus that former Representative Willis Battle, co-author with Allen of the act whereby the Western & Atlantic railroad rentals were discounted last season by the highway department, would not be a candidate for the Muscogee county seat made vacant by the death of Representative George Meredith.

Two candidates for the post of president pro tem of the senate also have announced that they will open offices in Atlanta in a few days. The candidates are Senator John M. Hutchinson, of Lafayette, former member of the house from Walker county, and Senator H. A. Cartwright, of Wilkes, whose offices at the Piedmont will be open for business Friday.

Cloudy and Warmer Forecast for Today

Cloudy and warmer weather, with temperatures no lower than 50 degrees, was the outlook for Atlanta and vicinity today and tonight, according to George W. Mindling, United States forecaster for Atlanta. The sharp, chilly winds of Sunday and Monday had subsided somewhat Tuesday and there already was a promise of mist in the air.

Tuesday's low temperature was 40 degrees, while the high was no colder than 53. Murky skies cast a pall over the city after noon Tuesday, and toward night the imminence of rain increased.

Maloney Surrenders In Shooting of Fay

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—(UP)—Edward Maloney, 40, took a priest's advice and surrendered tonight to police seeking him for the killing of Larry Fay, notorious racketeer and night club owner.

Walking up to a traffic officer at Sixth avenue and Eighth street, he announced: "I'm Maloney."

"Oh, yeah?" retorted the officer incredulously.

Maloney quickly convinced the policeman of his identity and was taken to the Charles street police station. There he told officers he had surrendered because he had been so advised by a priest, was sane and confessed Sunday night's shooting.

A grand jury heard evidence in the case today and was expected to indict Maloney tomorrow.

PROTECTED BY CELLOPHANE

From the Deteriorating Effects of Moisture

Just as moisture in the stomach causes any genuine aspirin to quickly dissolve and disintegrate, so will moisture in the air cause unprotected aspirin to decompose and disintegrate in its journey from maker to consumer.

Realizing this sensitivity of aspirin to moisture, the makers of St. Joseph's Genuine Pure Aspirin carefully wrap each package in moisture-proof cellophane. This protective measure always assures you of getting fresh, full strength aspirin with its original purity.

School Homework Is Frowned Upon By Minnesota Health Association

ST. PAUL, Jan. 3.—(AP)—Listen, children: Don't let your parents know we told you, but the fact is, you shouldn't do any school homework.

And if dad and mother insist, tell them, physicians of the Minneapolis State Medical Association say grade and junior high school kids should do all their studying in school; no more of this arithmetic and grammar stuff after dinner.

If the folks are still skeptical, you can learn the following quotation from the medical association and rattle it off:

Composer of "Sweet Adeline" Seeks New Barber Shop Hit

By DALE HARRISON.

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—(AP)—Richard Gerard Hirsch expressed the hope today that "Sweet Adeline" during the new year might have a sister as lusty, in the good old hairdressing manner, as Adeline herself.

Mr. Hirsch is a postoffice clerk in Jamaica, Queens, which is utilized in the song. He is also the man who wrote the words of "Sweet Adeline," which is a hit.

"Sweet Adeline," began Mr. Hirsch, and his interrogator chimed in with the inevitable descending harmony, "Sweet Adeline."

"Sweet Adeline," continued Hirsch, who wrote the song under the name Gerard with Harry Armstrong doing the music, "didn't do as well by us as you might have. She was a girl, you might say, who didn't start stepping out into important money until she had left home."

Jack Pickford Succumbs in Paris At Hospital Where First Wife Died

PARIS, Jan. 3.—(AP)—Jack Pickford, brother of the famous Mary, and an actor in his own right, died this afternoon in the same hospital where his first wife, Olive Thomas, died of accidental poisoning in 1920.

Two doctors and two nurses were with him when he died. He had been semi-conscious the past three days and lapsed into coma three hours before his death.

Pickford, who had been ill for some time, was 36 years old. He was ill when he arrived in Paris last September. He had become extremely emaciated and friends said movie fans throughout the United States who had known him in the films would not have recognized him.

Dr. Edmund L. Gros, who attended him in the American hospital, said death resulted from "multiple neuritis which finally affected the brain center."

A few weeks ago Douglas Fairbanks, Miss Pickford's husband, who was on his way home from the orient, visited Jack at the hospital.

Jack Pickford first attracted attention in "Tom Sawyer," a silent film and others, which he appeared in "Seventeen," "Great Expectations," and "The Varmint."

He was born in Toronto, Canada, August 18, 1896. His real name was John Carl Smith. In 1904 the family moved to New York and Jack was educated at the St. Francis Military Academy. Before that he had appeared with his sisters, Mary and Lottie, in a theatrical road company.

Mary was the first to use the name Pickford, which she took from a relative. In July, 1920, when Jack became a naturalized American, he adopted the name John Carl Pickford.

He was married three times. After his first wife, Olive Thomas, died in 1920 he married Mary Miller and they were divorced in 1927. In August, 1930, he married Mary Mulhern at Del Monte, Cal.

TOBACCO MANUFACTURERS
Cut Cigaret Prices

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—(AP)—The "big four" of the American tobacco industry today announced a sharp reduction in the wholesale prices of popular brands of cigarettes.

The cut was from $6.85 for 1,000 cigarettes to $6.60. The cut had been widely forecast last week, when listed stocks of the four principal tobacco manufacturers began to recede in trading on the New York Stock Exchange.

Today the tobacco shares presented a much stronger appearance, presumably on short covering, which appeared when the actual announcement of the impending reduction had been made.

American Tobacco "B" rallied $1.37 a share to $37. L. Liggett & Myers "B" stock gained 75 cents a share to $52.62; R. J. Reynolds Tobacco "B" stock advanced 12 cents a share to $27.50 and Lorillard held steadily at $12.12 a share.

The reduction was said to have brought cigarette prices down to their lowest level for the wholesale trade since the post-war tax of 6 cents a package was placed on cigarettes by the federal government.

North Dakota House Names Woman Speaker

BISMARCK, N. D., Jan. 3.—(AP)—A woman was elected speaker of the North Dakota house of representatives today for the first time in history.

She was Mrs. Minnie Craig, of Esmond, a republican legislator for several sessions and from 1925 to 1932 republican national committee woman for the state.

She was elected unanimously after J. M. Thompson, of Wilson, democratic candidate, polled only a few votes.

3 SOVIET OFFICIALS SENTENCED TO DIE IN GRAIN SABOTAGE

MOSCOW, Jan. 3.—(AP)—Three of the highest communist party and soviet officials in the Brezhnevsky district of the Ukraine were sentenced to death today and eight others to imprisonment upon their conviction of treason. It was charged they engaged in a campaign of sabotage against the government's grain collection plan.

The Ukraine, once known as the breadbasket of Europe, still is the soviet government's chief grain-producing area, but its 1932 production and delivery has been the most backward in the whole country.

The three men sentenced to execution by shooting are Golovin, secretary of the regional communist party committee; Polamarechuk, president of the regional soviet executive committee, and Anistrat, senior agricultural technician for the regional executive committee.

They were charged with arbitrarily lowering the government's grain collection quotas, and falsely reporting on the extent of the crop to the central authorities.

Southern Universities Rank High, Official Finds After Inspection

Southern colleges and universities rank with those of any section of the country, in the opinion of Edward R. Murrow, of New York, assistant director of the Institute of International Education, and past president of the National Students' Federation. Mr. Murrow arrived in Atlanta Tuesday on his way home from New Orleans, after inspecting a number of colleges in the south.

Mr. Murrow will address students of Agnes Scott College at 9:35 o'clock this morning in chapel prior to his departure for Athens, where he will visit the University of Georgia. He was particularly impressed Tuesday with the school plant at Emory, and expressed great interest in the annual institute of citizenship held by that college.

The Institute of International Education, sending American students abroad and giving scholarships in American schools to foreign students, has three girls—from Germany, France and Czechoslovakia—at Agnes Scott, and has sent one boy from Emory to France.

Mr. Murrow reports a definite increase in interest in political affairs outside of the campus on the part of college students, and the development of a general feeling of responsibility. This is an encouraging sign, he said. American colleges work under closer supervision than those abroad, the foreign student being free to work under his own initiative without much close checking, Mr. Murrow said. He believes that the foreign policy is better as it develops self reliance and ability to work independently.

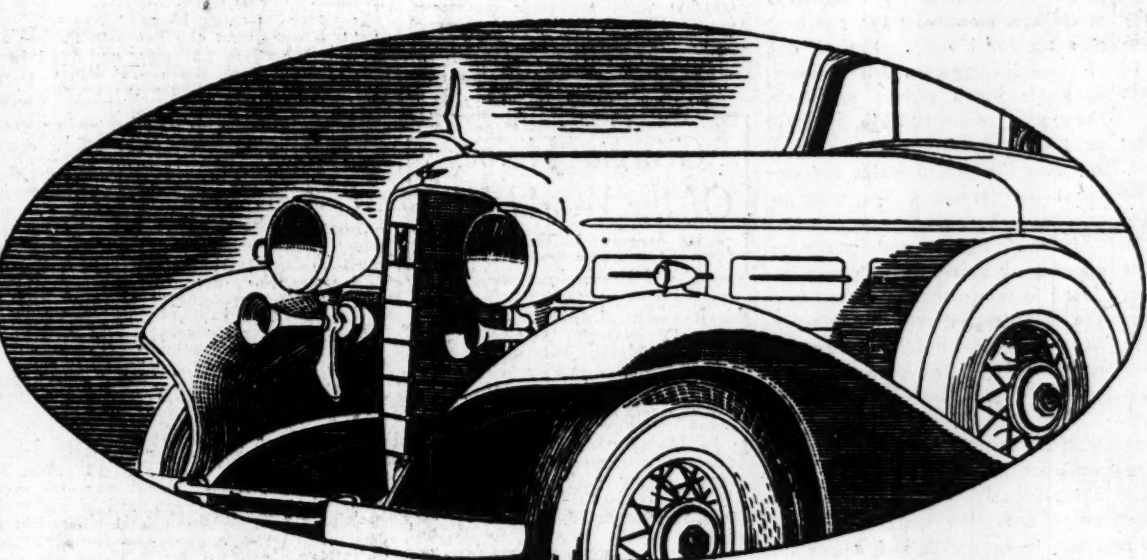

Automotive Survey of Southeast Will Be Launched Here This Week

M. P. Crowe, of Washington, D. C., representing the National Census Bureau, automotive statisticians, is in Atlanta to launch an automotive survey of this city and the southeast. The survey is designed to show the ratio of owners and non-owners of automobiles in various parts of the country.

Another development was that more automobiles are bought by persons making $1,400 or less than by those earning $6,500 a year and more. More than two-thirds of all cars sold are bought by persons making $5,000 a year and less, and half of all gainfully employed persons do not own cars, the survey revealed.

Mr. Crowe's census will cover Georgia, the Carolinas, Florida and Alabama, the canvass centering on large areas. There will be 320 census takers in all, 40 per cent of whom will be brought from the east and the rest recruited locally. Eighteen will make the Atlanta survey.

These will make house-to-house visits and will get data on the number of employed and unemployed in each quarter here, the exact locality to be announced later. J. H. Early, of Covington, Tenn., will be in charge of managers and personnel.

AT DECIDED REDUCTIONS IN PRICE

Re-styled completely in a mode quite obviously their own... endowed with performance more brilliant and alluring from every standpoint... and enriched throughout in those fundamental qualities which set Cadillac-built cars apart from all others in the world—a new Cadillac V-8, a new Cadillac V-12 and a dashing new La Salle now make their bow to the American public. ★ ★ ★ And they come not only as the finest cars that Cadillac has ever built, but as by far the greatest values—for every model in all three lines is offered at prices decidedly reduced. ★ ★ ★ At no time in its history has Cadillac made a more significant step toward its goal of perfection than in these three distinguished cars. In everything that they are and do, they represent definite advancement over their distinguished predecessors. ★ ★ ★ They are infinitely more beautiful—not only in the sweep of their lines, but in the contour of radiator, fenders and moldings. And their beauty is individual, lending a distinction apart from all other cars on the highway—as you would expect of a Cadillac or La Salle. ★ ★ ★ Every performance factor is decisively improved and refined. The engines are more alert and dynamic—not only in speed, but in response to the throttle as well. The overall quietness is even more pronounced, actually approaching complete silence of operation. Comfort is the nearest approach to the ideal the motor car has ever known. And there is a quick, certain and unlabored response to brakes and steering wheel that removes from driving the last vestige of effort. ★ ★ ★ And Cadillac is especially proud to provide, alone of all the cars in its price field, that vital health and comfort feature—Fisher No-Draft Ventilation, individually-controlled. It may be said definitely that, without this feature, no car can give you the satisfaction you now have a right to expect in a fine automobile. ★ ★ ★ These three unusual cars are now on display at Cadillac-La Salle showrooms everywhere, and Cadillac joins with its dealers in extending a most cordial invitation to see and inspect them at any time.

As previously announced, the 1933 production of the Cadillac V-16 will be limited to four hundred cars, custom built to individual order—each car to be serially numbered and inscribed with the owner's name. The coachwork will be designed and executed by Fleetwood and will be mounted on an improved 16-cylinder chassis of even greater performance and mechanical excellence. For those who seek the acme in personalized transportation, the Cadillac V-16 comprises its highest interpretation.

THE WORLD'S WINDOW

BY PIERRE VAN PAASSEN.

Dilemma.

Before assuming power, General

Hitler wanted to make a last effort to get Hitler's last responsibility

The great "fuehrer" (duke, leader) accepted the invitation and took the evening train from Munich to Berlin.

However, when the Hitler train arrived in Berlin, the station next morning, no Hitler. To their amazement they learned that the middle of the night at Weimar. At Weimar, Hitler had been awakened by others of his lieutenants, who belong to the most reactionary group in nazism, and these men had persuaded him to let Schleicher take his own chance. And so the opportunity was missed once again. Hitler is still in opposition and he can keep on crying and screaming and keep battering the people. Only Schleicher is an actual politician, and he is pat, nevertheless, in his determination not to tolerate a Schleicher government.

The general has another arrow in his bow. He will threaten with a new election.

Now another election is like a nightmare in the Hitler camp, because the last one showed a decline in the support of the movement.

Another one, at this moment, would undoubtedly show that the process of disintegration is proceeding rapidly.

The failure of the state to provide drivers' license and other protective measures, by which irresponsible, reckless and deficient drivers can be kept from behind the wheel, is, in the last analysis, responsible for the greater part of the carnage which took place on the streets of Atlanta last year.

As it is now, anybody, including a mentally unsound person, or a known criminal, can drive an automobile on the streets and highways of Georgia merely by the purchase of a tag for his car. Even if one of these incompetent drivers is responsible for a serious smash-up, the police authorities are impotent to take away his right to operate what the United States supreme court has termed a "potential instrument of death."

Drivers' license and safety responsibility measures will be introduced in the forthcoming session of the legislature.

Such measures have been defeated before because of the objection of a small element of our population.

The general assembly should weigh carefully any small inconvenience that may be caused these comparatively few, against the assured reduction these laws would bring in the death and destruction now marking the use of the state's highways and streets.

Hundreds of lives have been snuffed out in Georgia this year, thousands have been sent to the hospitals in maimed and bruised condition and hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of property has been destroyed because we permit the mentally and physically incompetent to drive over our thoroughfares. And many of the victims have been unable to secure recompense for their losses and injuries because of the lack of financial responsibility of those causing the accidents.

The automobile accident is now taking a toll in life, property and economic loss to the state that we can no longer bear, and the legislature should give immediate approval to the remedial measures which will be submitted to it.

ILLITERACY DECREASES.

The final report of the national advisory committee on illiteracy, named by President Hoover in 1929, shows that during these four years illiteracy has decreased by nearly a third. There still remain in the country, however, 4,283,753 persons unable to read or write.

One hundred and eighteen thousand adults were taught their A, B

C's in Georgia during this period, bringing the state from forty-second to forty-first position in respect to illiteracy, as compared with the other states of the country.

The states having a high percentage of illiteracy are all located in the south, where the large populations of uneducated negroes pull down the high average of white literacy.

The illiteracy commission ended its work January 1, having brought about the creation of committees in 44 states and having assisted these committees in reaching the point where they could proceed effectively with their work without the necessity of a national organization.

It has been conclusively demonstrated that illiteracy and crime go hand in hand, and that a man or woman who is unable to read or write is generally a liability instead of an asset to the community. It is to be hoped, therefore, that the state committees will, despite the dissolution of the national commission, lose none of their vigor in the drive to eliminate illiteracy entirely in this country.

Now two children under nine have been caught robbing a bank.

The little darlings learn so much faster than children did in the old days.

Note to the wets: The reason the dries once got their way was because they knew what they wanted.

A he-man is one who sprays his germs on 247 people because he too brave to let a little cold lick him.

Don't Deceive Yourself about a COLD!

A Cold is Nothing to Take Lightly and Nothing to Treat Lightly! A Cold is an Internal Infection Calling for Specific Internal Medication!

A cold is nothing to trifle with. You can't tell where it will end. Many a case of influenza has been preceded by a "slight" cold.

A cold calls for a COLD remedy. Preparations good for half a dozen things besides colds can't be equally effective for colds. Many of these preparations actually make a cold more difficult of relief because they are constipating and also make the system acid.

A cold also calls for internal medication. For a cold is an internal infection. Local or outside applications only allay a few of the symptoms and do not reach the real seat of the trouble.

Play Safe!

At the first sign of a cold you can do nothing wiser than take Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine. Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine deals with a cold decisively because it does the four things necessary. First of all, it opens the bowels. Second, it kills the cold germs and fever in the system. Third, it relieves the headache and grippiness. Fourth, it tones the entire system and fortifies against further attack.

This is the treatment you want and anything less is only compromising with a cold.

Harmless!

Effective as it is, Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine is safe for young and old to take. It contains nothing harmful and may be taken with impunity whether you stay indoors or go out. For more than forty years it has been the standard cold and grippiness tablet of the world, the formula keeping pace with Modern Medicine. Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine now comes in two sizes—30c and 50c. Get yourself a package today and keep it handy all winter as your "safety first" measure. Ask for it by full name and look for the initials L. B. Q. stamped on every tablet.

NOTE: During Epidemics a tablet or two of Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine every morning and night will do much to fortify your system against infection.—(adv.)

Senate "Baby" Presides Over Smaller Chamber

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—(AP)—Senator Reynolds, democrat, North Carolina, today presided over the senate for his first time, wielding the gavel at the invitation of Vice President Curtis. Reynolds is the "baby" of the democratic senators.

A southern colleague, Bankhead, democrat, Alabama, held the floor during Reynolds' service as presiding officer.

suggestions for curtailments aggregating $411,706,000 annually.

James A. Emery, counsel, and H. A. Giddings, chairman of the group, outlined their stand as against continuation of benefits to soldiers in the World War and Spanish American War whose ailments and disabilities were not traceable to service duty.

This is the substance of the economic league's stand, but the two organizations are in no way connected.

The taxpayers' union, through Demarest Lloyd, executive secretary, told the committee that organization supported these recommendations "in principle."

Patman, in the house, said the league "is an outlaw organization which doesn't count the law."

He contended it did not report its expenditures to congress and said "when we start cutting down on veterans' expenditures we ought to start with Pershing (General John J. Pershing) and Byrd." He told the house Pershing drew $21,000 annual retirement pay.

President Hoover today signed a resolution extending the life of the joint congressional committee investigating "legislator veterans" legislation from January 1 to March 3.

The committee was supposed to pass out of existence January 1, but congress authorized the extension to permit further study. Its report is to be made available to the new congress.

BYRD WILL GIVE UP STATUS IF LEGION BACKS MEASURE

BOSTON, Jan. 3.—(AP)—Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd tonight said he would give up his status in the navy if the American Legion would favor before congress the repeal of the law which grants pensions to veterans of all our wars who received an injury or disability from war service.

President Hoover today signed a resolution extending the life of the joint congressional committee investigating "legislator veterans" legislation from January 1 to March 3.

HUGE FUND ASKED FOR JOBLESS AID

Half-Billion Dollar U. S.
Appropriation Sought for Welfare Work.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—(AP)—The misery of the nation's unemployed was pictured by witnesses before a senate committee today as so extensive and growing that the federal government should contribute half a billion dollars to relieve it.

Marking the opening of a new drive for enactment of direct federal aid for the jobless, welfare directors gave their views at the beginning of hearings on the LaFollette-Costigan bill for $500,000,000 bond issue, the proceeds to be distributed in outright grants by a new federal board.

One of the witnesses—John B. Swift, of the Family Welfare Association of America, New York city—while expressing approval of the bill, advocated that it be held up until after the present session of congress.

He contended that passage now would place its execution in the hands of an administration which is apparently not in sympathy with the methods the bill proposes.

He urged its passage instead at a special session of congress which he said "seems inevitable" this spring, soon after the Roosevelt administration takes office.

In the meantime, Swift argued, changes can be made in the Reconstruction Finance Corporation act to make the present federal relief loans more nearly meet the needs.

Senator Costigan, democrat, Colorado, co-sponsor of the bill with Senator LaFollette, republican, Wisconsin, asserted that "the most startling development of this nation-wide tragedy has been the failure of a large part of the country's leadership to face the facts, and the failure to combat and conquer the problem."

Swift said conditions are such that if they existed "in some other nation, such as Russia, we would be horrified by them."

CARMICHAEL INSTALLED AS EAST POINT MAYOR

Howard J. Carmichael, prominent mortician, took the oath of office of mayor of East Point at the first meeting of borough council, held in East Point city hall Tuesday night. Election of other city officials was postponed because the auditor's report was not completed, and January 12 was set as the date for the election of these officials.

H. B. Coleman, councilman from the second ward, was the only other new city official to be administered the oath of office. David L. Hall, re-elected councilman from the first ward, and C. S. Wynne, re-elected councilman from the third ward, also were sworn in, and Wynne was chosen to serve as mayor pro tem.

There were several loud explosions of gas, it was reported, huge breaches were opened in the mountainside and tons of standing timber were carried along by the slowly moving mass.

BURIAL IN BAINBRIDGE FOR CLARENCE D. TEO

ELECTORS TO MEET AND CAST BALLOTS FOR PARTY LEADER

That Franklin D. Roosevelt will get Georgia's electoral vote will be settled beyond any question today when the state's presidential electors gather for the purpose of voting the state's electoral votes in behalf of the president-elect.

The 12 electors will meet at noon in the governor's office as provided by law and solemnly cast their ballots for Mr. Roosevelt. A second ballot will be taken and the votes cast for Speaker John N. Garner for vice president.

Cann D. Dorsey, of Atlanta, having polled the highest number of votes, is expected to be elected chairman of the electors. Mr. Dorsey was an elector at large. Mrs. Oscar McKenzie, of Montezuma, the other elector for the state at large, is expected to be selected secretary.

The others, representing the 10 congressional districts are: H. P. Smith, Reidville, first district; W. J. Crowe, Sylvester, second district; Mrs. Nora Lawrence Smith, Ashburn, third district; N. F. Culpepper, Greenville, fourth district; John Wesley Weekes, Decatur, fifth district; Charles J. Bloch, Macon, sixth district; Judge Newell Morris, Marietta, seventh district; DeWitt Roberts, Valdosta, eighth district; Mrs. Mary Jarret White, Toccoa, ninth district; and Hugh J. Rowe, Athens, tenth district.

For their efforts the electors are entitled to $50 and mileage from their home cities to Atlanta and return if they desire to collect. Frequently the electors serve without pay.

GROCEER LOSES $12 TO FOUR BANDITS

Entering on the pretext of making a purchase, four negroes held up and robbed Wiley C. Brigidon, 299 Peters street, a grocer, of about $12 in his store shortly before 6 o'clock Tuesday evening.

Brigidon told police the four entered and walked around as if they were about to select some article. Suddenly one of them drew a pistol, while the others raised the cash register. As Brigidon made a move toward the till one of the negroes struck him over the head with the butt of the gun. He was badly hurt.

Early Wednesday morning, three negroes, Harrison Bridges, 18; John Willis, 16, and Charles Ellis, 16, were arrested at the corner of Greenberry avenue and Roach street, and held on suspicion in connection with the hold-up. The arrests were made by Patrolmen E. P. Roberts and B. R. Hutcherson.

FOX RECEIPTS HELD UP BY FILM DISTRIBUTORS

Felton Bowden Tuesday was appointed temporary receiver to impound gross receipts of the Fox theater for the week beginning December 31, pending a hearing on an action in superior court on January 14 before Judge E. E. Pomeroy for failure of the theater to show the moving picture "Goon Goon" during that week.

The action was taken by the First Division Exchange, a film distributing agency, against the Southeastern Amusement Enterprises, Inc., as defendant. The contract, it is alleged, called for a fee of $1,500 and commissions on gross receipts.

NEW JURY IS CHARGED BY JUDGE E. D. THOMAS

E. R. Austin Named Foreman; 18 True Bills Returned at First Session.

Fulton superior court Tuesday began its first term of the new year, and a new grand jury was charged and sworn in by Judge E. D. Thomas.

The court opened session with full civil and criminal court calendars. Judge G. H. Howard presided over the first grand jury and assigned other cases to Judge E. E. Pomeroy, who is also hearing motions. Judge E. D. Thomas is presiding over the only criminal division which will be in operation this week. Judges John D. Humphries and Virgil B. Moore are ill.

In charging the grand jury Judge Thomas called attention to the crowded condition of the jail and chain gangs and informed the jury that it is not due to an increase in crime, but rather to the fact that defendants cannot pay fines and are forced to serve sentences. He urged them to be reasonably sure that a conviction will follow before returning true bills. If this plan is followed, he asserted, a saving in time and money will be made for the county.

The jury retired to its first session and returned 18 true bills and no nobills. All were of a routine nature.

Edward R. Austin, of 125 Currier street, N. E., of the Southern Bell Telephone Company, was named foreman of the jury, and J. H. Moye, of Hightower road, was elected secretary.

ATLANTA... Resurgens!

First Terminus... then Marthasville... Atlanta. Civil War. Devastation. Immediate reconstruction... the city's population more than doubled in five short years. * * * So passed the first generation of Atlanta's history—a history that set the rapid tempo that characterized the growth and progress of the "Gate City of the South" in the years that followed.

COMPARE the present population of over 360,000 with the 10,000 people whom the Civil War drove from their homes... today's property valuation of over $410,000,000 with the $7,150,000 of the late "sixties."

Once almost entirely an agricultural center, manufactured products in 1929 (the latest available figures) were valued at $136,947,488.

Total wholesale and retail trade in the same year was more than $664,024,446.

In 1932 the annual income in salaries and wages alone, of Atlanta people was estimated at $225,000,000!

Atlanta has indeed "risen from the ashes" of 1865 and become a great metropolis serving a great and growing section.

Few single factors have a more important relation to a community's growth and progress than do its banks. As Atlanta turned her energies to reconstruction in 1865, The First National Bank of Atlanta was founded with $100,000 capital. Through the years it has worked with Atlanta people and Atlanta business and industry... rapidly increasing its facilities as the need for them has increased. Today, with an invested capital, surplus and profit of over $12,000,000—and with total resources, including its state-wide affiliated banking group, of over $100,000,000—The First National looks forward to ever increasing usefulness to Atlanta, to Georgia and to the Southeast.

THE BITTER TEA OF GENERAL YEN

By Grace Zaring Stone.

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE: Bob Strike, missionary in war zone of China, secures pass to Chapel, where orphans are marooned and with his fiancée, Megan Davis, sets out to rescue them. Arriving at railroad station with the children, Strike is stopped, and Miss Davis kidnaps, later to find herself in the summer palace of General Yen, Chinese head. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

INSTALLMENT II.

"It was stupid of me to disturb your morning like this, but there is a famine in my province and I have no rice to feed my prisoners," Megan stared at him in mute horror. Yen made a gesture of dismissal to Mah-Li. As she bowed and prepared to leave, Megan stepped over and grabbed her flowing sleeve.

"Don't go," Megan pleaded.

"Please."

The young general repeated his order to Mah-Li, this time in Chinese, and she withdrew her sleeve from Megan's grasp and left, meekly.

Megan turned to Yen angrily.

"What are you going to do with me?"

"I am doing my best to make you comfortable," he drew up a chair to the table where the atahua laid Megan's breakfast and gestured her to sit down.

"Please sit down and eat your breakfast."

"Why did you drug me on the train?" asked Megan, ignoring his invitation. "I don't remember a thing."

"You were in great pain," he explained, "and sleep makes a long journey very short."

"You didn't have to bring me here," retorted Megan hastily. "Why don't you send me back to Shanghai?"

"I intend to, but it is not safe to send you back by rail. You will go back in my yacht as soon as I can have it put back in commission."

"I don't believe you!" she replied intensely. "You're lying!"

He seemed wounded by the insult, advancing toward her soothingly.

"Please!" he begged. "You're making a mistake."

She retreated from him. As she stepped back her hands touched a sharp-bladed knife on the breakfast table. Megan grasped it tightly.

"You yellow swine!" said Megan cruelly, her eyes flashing. "I advise you to send me back to Shanghai as soon as you can."

The young general winced under the stinging lash of her remark. He bowed. "You will always find me your most humble servant," Yen, bandit, straightened up and left the room.

ing one across to Schultz. "They think she's dead," he rubbed his chin thoughtfully. "I think I'll shave."

Yen holstered himself out of the swivel chair and started for the door.

"Look here," said Schultz concerningly. "I never butted into your private affairs before, but don't forget—this is a white woman."

General Yen paused at the door momentarily.

"That's all right. I have no prejudice against her."

Megan Davis closed herself in her room, allowing none, but Mah-Li to visit her. She took a liking to the Chinese girl, and pitied her for the role she played in General Yen's household. Considering the girl a fellow sufferer at the hands of Yen, Megan gave her letters to send to Bob Strike in Shanghai. These letters were passed safely in a drawer in General Yen's desk. As on the first day she was there, and in spite of the general's frequent invitations to dinner, Megan took her meals in her room. After dinner she went out on the long balcony over the courtyard.

One evening, while watching the sing-song girls and the soldiers carouse in the moonlight, Megan fell asleep. Megan dreamed. She dreamed she was lying in her bedroom when General Yen broke down the door and seized her in his arms. She struggled violently, but to no avail. Suddenly a masked man in American clothes entered through the balcony window. He pulled Yen away from her and knocked him out in true heroic fashion. As he here kissed her with a passion which she warmly returned, she smilingly removed his mask—and revealed the face of General Yen.

Megan awoke with a start, pale and shuddering.

"I often envy the common soldier. His wants are so few," Megan looked up, startled. There was General Yen standing at the balcony.

reels and misunderstandings."

"Didn't Mah-Li give you my answer?" asked Megan sternly, recovering herself.

"Yes," he murmured, untrifled. "You are picking up our Chinese customs very rapidly. We always refuse the first two invitations, but it is our custom to accept the third."

Megan answered more pleasantly. "Then will you teach me the Chinese way of saying 'no' when I really mean it?"

"Really," sighed General Yen, "you make it very difficult for me. What can I do to make your visit pleasant?"

"Just send me back to my friends," pleaded Megan. "That's all I ask. He offered her a cigarette and lighted it for her. They smoked awhile in silence, studying each other.

"General Yen," inquired Megan finally, "how can the man who ruthlessly slaughters innocent people have such a tender reverence for the beauty of the moon?"

The young leader laughed indulgently.

"Ah, Miss Davis, it is evident that people are mere symbols to you—heroes and villains, monsters and saints."

"Have you no standards in China by which people are judged?"

"I have observed," answered Yen seriously, "that you westerners attach yourselves passionately to standards. Our philosophy enables us to endure life by an endless series of compromises, it allows us to shoot people, yet enjoy the poetry of the moon."

"And your endless civil wars—are they compromises, too?"

"Yes. Certainly. We run away as often as we fight, which proves that what we fight for is not worth dying for."

Ben Is Curious

By Zane Grey

"Well, Ben greeted his partner, "where's you been?"

"I been ridin' around over the lone cuntry, Ben. He seemed more than ever his cool and lazy self. Ben grinned inwardly. How he loved this lithe, dark-skinned rider. "You're shore curious about me," Nevada added.

"Did you go after Setter?" Ben asked.

"Wal, I did," drawled his partner, "but that pop-eyed rustler boss is away gettin' a new set of teeth. I saw a friend of yours, though."

"Nevada," demanded Ben breathlessly, "did you see Ina?"

"I did," Nevada said quietly. "And she thinks a whole pile of you, Ben. Not that you're worth it, of course."

"Hold your tongue," shouted Ben frantically. "I know she's a million times better than I am. I'm an outcast."

"Shore, same as your pard, huh?" exclaimed Nevada. "But you know I was foolin'. You don't suppose I lose any chance to boost you with her, do you?"

"I know, my friend," Ben answered, seriously. "We're going to live this down together, and then I'll go to Ina, not before."

O'Brien Inaugurated Mayor of New York

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—(AP)—John Patrick O'Brien was formally inaugurated as mayor today to serve the remaining year of James J. Walker's unexpired term.

O'Brien had called for a ceremony "as simple as we can stand," and the procedure of taking the oath was carried out in accordance with his dictum of "No fuss, no feathers, no high hats, no brass bands."

In the absence of Walker, the new mayor was escorted to the dais by Joseph V. McKee, president of the board of aldermen, who became mayor when Walker resigned September 1 and returned to his old post today.

Former Governor Alfred E. Smith, an old friend of O'Brien's, spoke on the city's financial problems, and wished the new chief executive good health, strength and all success.

O'Brien himself, in a lengthy address, promised continued efficiency of waste and a general reorganization of the city departments.

VIRALIA, Ga., Jan. 3.—(AP)—In a note found near the body of George W. Collins, 26, who died of a gunshot wound Monday the "improper functioning of our government," and attempt to "enforce the prohibition law" were given as the cause of conditions which caused the shooting.

A coroner's jury said the wound was "self-inflicted."

The note said in part that "class legislation only favorable to the rich and depressing the poor, and the farm board and other bureaus at such enormous expense have caused the common people to lose their very all."

In another note it was explained that his family was visiting in Emanuel county.

Doctors Know Best How to Treat Colds

Medical writers agree that the important point in the treatment of a cold, or cough due to a cold, is to relieve the congestion in the nose and throat, thereby preventing serious complications which may follow a neglected cold. To stop this congestion, calomel was the accepted and standard remedy until Calatoba, the improved calomel compound tablet was introduced.

Now that science has robbed calomel of its nausea and danger, making it pleasant to take and perfectly safe for general use, over forty million Calatobas are consumed in the U. S. yearly with only the most pleasant and satisfactory results. In millions of homes Calatoba have proven their superiority in the prompt relief of colds and coughs due to colds.

One or two Calatoba at bed-time with a glass of sweet milk or water. No salts necessary. No nausea nor the slightest interference with your eating, work or pleasure. Next morning the congestion has subsided, your cold or cough is relieved, your system is thoroughly purified and you are feeling fine with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you wish—no danger.

Get a family package of Calatoba, containing full directions, only thirty-five cents. Trial size, ten cents. At any drug store.—(adv.)

Self-Help Students at Georgia Live in Hut, Study by Fire Light

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 3.—(AP)—Abraham Lincoln, glorifier of the American log cabin, didn't have to wash his own dishes as do some self-help students at the University of Georgia, the oldest state university in America, are going to school by working at odd jobs or on money they borrowed.

Some of the boys pay their board at a camp near the school on a co-operative plan. Their fathers furnish vegetables and meat for the camp and the boys get their board. Other students earn money by playing roles of nursemaid for babies, tending horses, selling peanuts and serving as housemaids and butlers. Of course they deliver handbills, collect accounts, keep books, wash dishes, jerk soda and act as chauffeurs.

Last year a boy lived in a hut to save room rent. He also tended the camp horses.

The university even has some students who served professional pal-bearers. The funeral directors hired eight boys to carry a casket. The deceased was well known and the directors decided that a safe way to keep from offending any of the many friends was to hire strangers as pall-bearers.

MAN'S BODY FOUND IN ABANDONED HOUSE

GREENVILLE, Ga., Jan. 3.—(AP)—The body of an unidentified man, apparently about 65 years of age, was found today in an abandoned house near here on the Woodbury highway and buried by county officers.

There was nothing found to show he had been a victim of violence and Dr. R. B. Gilbert, county physician, said the body was caused by pneumonia or heart attack. A coroner's jury accepted the physician's statement.

In a brown felt hat, size 7-1/2, was the man's name, "Miller, S. B.," on the inside of the hat. The body was found in a rooming house, but nothing to show from whom any of his clothing was bought.

Officers said a man answering his description spent several nights recently in the Woodbury (Ga.) jail and that he left there saying he was going to Columbus, Ga., to visit relatives. His clothing was of very low grade and six road maps were found in his shoes. He had no upper front teeth and several lower ones were missing.

Crackers Purchase Heavy-Hitting Phelps From Washington

Pitt's Warner System Made To Order For Trojans To Stop

Far be it from me to be an old curmudgeon, but there was a deep, dark and well-fixed suspicion in all parts of California, except Los Angeles, that the Trojans of Southern Cal, had selected the Pittsburgh Panthers for the Rose Bowl game because they figured them a sure-fire loser.

It is one of our national tendencies to be a bit suspicious of anyone who is up in the chips, so to speak. And in view of some of the things that have happened in recent years, it is not such a bad tendency at that.

Southern California has been up in the chips for some time and they wanted that string of victories run to 20. Which is the natural ambition of the man who is up there.

Pittsburgh uses the Warner system and that is the one system the coast teams can stop with their eyes shut. They know that system just as the teams in the south know the Notre Dame system. Or better. Because the teams down here cannot shut their eyes and stop the Notre Dame system, despite the fact they can do quite a lot with it.

But the better teams on the coast can do more with the Warner system than a monkey can with a peanut. And that, say the boys on the coast, is the real reason why Pop Warner is leaving out there. They have learned to send their tackles straight in and to wait for the cut-backs and they have caused Pop Warner much grief thereby.

Southern California won from Stanford, 13 to 0, and was pulled up, so to speak, at the finish. No Warner system has scored on Southern Cal in years.

The boys in San Francisco and other cities were quite free and easy in their belief that Pittsburgh was selected so that there would be no great strain or worry around Southern Cal before the game.

But be that as it may, Southern California has a great football team. It is very probably the greatest team in the nation. But how would they have fared against Michigan—just for the sake of argument?

And I wonder what Alabama—the Alabama team that beat Vanderbilt and St. Mary's, would have done against the Trojans?

At any rate, they did not make the mistake of selecting a team as tough as the Green Wave of last fall.

IMPORTANT FUNDS STILL TOSSED ABOUT.

It was quite a shock to your old servant to find, on the recent jaunt with the Georgia Tech football team, that there was still a lot of loose money, in important denominations, still being tossed about in a careless fashion.

A couple of gentlemen from Philadelphia have recently caused to be erected in Havana a gambling casino which is said to be the most luxuriously appointed and the most magnificently proportioned place of chance in the world, excepting only Monte Carlo.

Gambling is the national sport in Havana. I did observe a lot of kids playing baseball on some of the lots. One saw the same thing in Panama. And near the Maine monument in Havana some kids were playing with a football. But gambling is the national sport. The street swarms with vendors of lottery tickets and there are games of chance on all hands.

The casino, erected and operated by the two gentlemen from Philadelphia, lies some 10 miles from Havana as the crow flies—to be plucked.

There are a half dozen starters outside to keep the cars moving as the trade comes in and alights from the cars. The crush is so great that there are a couple of drives and a couple of entrances.

One enters on carpets which let one down to about the knees. There are the usual big mirrors and the usual dance floor and the usual crowded bar with prices jacked up a bit.

There were three gambling rooms. One contained all the roulette wheels, the bird cages and the faro games. And the other two had dice tables, blackjack tables, chemin de fer and some race horse wheels.

FOR LADIES ONLY.

There were a number of tables for ladies only. And the greatest crush was about them. They were tossing around some important funds and having a good time of it—even ha-ha-ing about dropping their funds, which seems to be the height of something.

There was one fat old girl there, on the ragged edge of 40, who crowded into the blackjack game and dropped an even hundred right quick.

"Ha! Ha!" she cried to a girl friend who was watching. "I just lost a 'C' note, and she trotted over to a thin old person playing at roulette and extracted three or four 'C' notes from him.

Your old servant, forgetting all about the niceties of things, followed the old girl around. She dropped two, after a struggle, at the bird cage with its three big dice, and then dropped two more at the dice table trying to play 6-8 and the field.

One of the mournful attendants confided in me that this was only so much chicken feed. I pointed out that the old girl was not alone, that a lot of others were doing the same thing, making quite a crush about the tables.

"Say, boy," he said, "they used to be embarrassed to pull out a 'C' note. It was a grand or nothing. Times ain't what they were. The depression has hit this racket hard."

But somehow I didn't forget about the fat old doll tossing away the "C" notes, and ha-ha-ing about them, for several hours.

ARMY AND NAVY BRING IN BASEBALL.

Cuba goes in for baseball in a large way. The newspapers there have their electrical scoreboards for recording games played there and for putting on the World Series games.

There are great many Cubans playing baseball in all the organized leagues. And a league or so flourishes in Cuba.

The army and navy brought the game there first. The kids picked it up and they still play it about the sandlots there as they do in America. But the national game is played with funds which are used to keep score.

ROWLEY SIGNS WITH FORDHAM FOR 3 YEARS

Salary Understood To Be in Excess of $11,000 Annually.

EAST LANSING, Mich., Jan. 3.—(AP)—James H. Crowley, football coach at Michigan State college for the past three years, today announced he had signed a three-year contract with Fordham University, New York. The offer is understood to be in excess of $11,000 a year. His contract at Michigan State, calling for $8,000 a year, was a year to run. Crowley was a member of the "Four Horsemen" while at Notre Dame.

He said his resignation, to take effect February 28, has been presented to Dr. Robert S. Shaw, president of Michigan State, and accepted by the president and members of the state board of agriculture governing board of the college. Crowley expects to leave for the east shortly after his resignation becomes effective.

Under the terms of the agreement at Fordham, Crowley said, he will have a free hand in naming his assistants.

Jack Coffey, graduate manager of athletics at Fordham, who made the announcement, said Crowley had signed a three-year contract. His first assistant will be Glen Carberry, captain of the Notre Dame team of 1922.

TRIANGLES BEAT MOCCASINS, 43-29

Atlanta's Y. M. C. A. basketball team extended its winning streak to eight games with an impressive 43-29 victory over the University of Chattanooga team Tuesday night on the Y. M. C. A. court.

The Triangles, with an excellent passing attack coupled with plenty of speed, went into an early lead and were never threatened. The Moccasins were leading 21 to 7, at the intermission.

With their game somewhat hampered because of the small court, the visitors opened up with a brilliant passing game in the second half and gradually cut the margin down to within a few points of a tie score.

Only to have the Triangles cut loose with another surge of field goals.

Johnny Phillips, the midair forward on the Y team, was the outstanding star of the game with 16 points to his credit. Not only was his offensive work brilliant, but he intercepted many Chattanooga passes and played a fine defensive game.

Tommy Reeder played an exceptionally fine game at guard and scored three long field goals. Halback, Richards and Olinger played well for the visitors, with the work of Halback outstanding.

Chattanooga Five Plays J. P. C. Tonight.

University of Chattanooga's basketball team will close a two-game Atlanta series at 8:30 o'clock tonight when it meets the Jewish Progressive Club team on the South Pryor street court.

The Moccasins have one of the best college basketball teams in the south and return a veteran lineup which last year won the Dixie conference championship. They lost only one game last season.

Recovering from their defeat by Furman last week, the Progressives are in much better condition and after several years of hard practice are ready to meet the Collegians tonight.

The J. P. C. lineup will consist of: Redland and Goodman, forwards; Rosenberger, center, and Harry and Dudy Spielberger at guards.

Chattanooga's lineup will be the same as that which faced the Y. M. C. A. Triangles Tuesday night with Halback and Shacklett, forwards; Olinger, center, and Ellis and White, guards.

The J. P. C. Reserves, seeking their fourth straight win, will meet the Joy Class at 7:30 o'clock in a preliminary game.

Vines Easy Victor Over Australian

ADELAIDE, Australia, Jan. 3.—(AP)—The touring United States tennis team today won an exhibition match from Australia, eight matches to four, to remain undefeated in team play on their visit.

Wimbledon Vines Jr., American and Wimbledon champion, reversed the result of his recent meeting in the Victoria championships as he easily defeated Van Ryn, Australian No. 1 player 6-1, 6-2.

Vines paired with Gleibell defeated E. F. Moon and Adrian Quist, 6-4, 6-4. Van Ryn won from Crawford and H. O. Hopman, 4-6, 2-6, 6-4.

The only Australian victory of the day registered by Quist, who defeated Van Ryn, 6-4, 6-3.

Stagg Improves, Doctors Report

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—(AP)—Amos Alonzo Stagg, retiring football coach at the University of Chicago, tonight was progressing satisfactorily with his campaign against influenza and bronchial pneumonia.

The congestion in Stagg's chest is clearing up, his physician and former football pupil, Dr. Max Rohde, reported, and if he continues to improve he should be out of danger in two or three days.

Dr. Rohde chuckled as he reported that the "71-year-old man of the midwest" was not a very patient patient and had become quite provoked with the nurses who interpreted his telephone calls and stopped visitors short of his door.

Stagg contracted the cold, from which the influenza and pneumonia developed, while en route to New York 10 days ago to receive a number of honors conferred on him by the football coaches of the National Collegiate Athletic Association and the Sportsmanship Brotherhood.

BABE RUTH DUE FOR SALARY CUT BUT NOT $25,000

Bambino and Ruppert Expect No Trouble in Reaching Terms.

By Alan Gould, Associated Press Sports Editor.

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—(AP)—Babe Ruth is likely to take another cut in salary this year but on the word of the Babe himself as well as his boss, Colonel Jacob Ruppert, any suggestion that it amounts to as much as $25,000 is entirely unfounded and the purest kind of speculation.

"Hey, what's that? Twenty-five thousand? That's a way to go," he said. "I don't want to hear of it."

Ruth was joined by Colonel Ruppert in saying neither had made any plans so far to discuss the 1933 salary matter. The Babe pointed out that the Yankees never sent him a contract by mail, along with the rest of the documents to the players, but preferred to settle affairs with him independently and he might have added, with due ceremony.

"I have no idea what the figures will be in Ruth's contract or when they will be decided," Colonel Ruppert said. "Furthermore, I have not seen Ruth, talked with him or heard from him since the last game of the World Series in Chicago."

Along baseball row, where the World-Telegram's special story served to touch off the annual Ruthian salary war, the controversy was first.

The Babe will not sign for less than $60,000 or $65,000 for the 1933 season. The Babe may accept a lower figure, but he has never said so.

He plans to stick to this policy, but Ruppert last winter established a policy of not signing Ruth now for more than one season at a time. He plans to stick to this policy.

The Yankees offered Ruth $70,000 last year but finally compromised with him at $75,000. This was a cut of $5,000 from the Babe's salary of $80,000 for the seasons of 1930-31.

In 13 consecutive seasons with the Yankees, Ruth has collected exactly $757,000 in salary checks. His first year's pay of $20,000, for the 1920 season, was quadrupled in a decade of sensational hitting exploits.

Sington, who was one of Wallace Wade's greatest tackles at University of Alabama—being a member of the 1930 Rose Bowl champions and subsequently an All-American—had a big season at Beckley, W. Va., of the Middle Atlantic league last summer. Sent up there by the Crackers after the Columbus club disbanded, the big fellow hit 28 home runs and led the league in extra-base hits.

"I've learned something about hitting now and I'm sure my fielding has improved 100 per cent after two years in professional ball," Sington stated.

His changes with the Crackers are enhanced because of the fact that he is a rookie and the new rules call for six Class B players on the active roster.

Sington also vouchsafed the information that Wallace Wade is going to have a real football team at Duke next fall.

"We had a fine freshman team this year and have enough varsity men held over to give us enough experience," Freddie added. Sington will assist Wade with spring practice and then will report to the Crackers at Mobile.

As a ball player, Sington has been improving slowly but surely. He was green and awkward when the Crackers first signed him off the Bama campus. At Columbus, however, he improved greatly during the month he was under Jack Sheehan. The latter predicted that Sington would some day make a great hitter.

"He has as much power in his wrists and arms as any hitter I ever saw and is very fast for a big fellow," Sheehan said at the winter baseball meeting in Columbus, Ohio.

Auburn To Play Alumni Tonight

AUBURN, Ala., Jan. 3.—Before launching an attractive Southeastern conference basketball schedule, the Auburn Tigers will play a pair of non-college foes here in Alumni gymnasium this week. The Tigers will meet the Auburn All-Stars Wednesday night at 8 o'clock and the Lanett Athletic Club Saturday night at the same time.

The Southeastern conference teams appearing on Auburn's 1933 schedule include Vanderbilt, L. S. U., Tulane, Georgia Tech and Florida. Birmingham-Southern will also be encountered by the Bengals. All of these teams except Georgia Tech and Birmingham-Southern will be played at Auburn.

Bachman Resignation Accepted by Board

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Jan. 3.—(AP)—Charles Bachman, head football coach at the University of Florida for five seasons, passed quietly out of the Gator coaching picture today when the state board of control accepted his resignation and directed President John J. Tiger to recommend a new coaching staff.

The decision was made in executive session. In accepting Bachman's resignation, which was tendered December 19, the board of control adopted a resolution declaring "it is the opinion of the board of control that the best interests of the University of Florida and the state would be served by the employment of an entirely new football coaching staff."

Manhattan Leaves Miami for Gotham

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 3.—(AP)—Members of the Manhattan College football team, vanquished 7 to 0 yesterday in an intercollegiate game with the University of Miami, left here for New York by steamer at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Coach Chick Mehan, of the Manhattan team, was in charge of the group as they left.

Fred Sington Is Sure Of Cracker Position

Famous Athlete Gains Experience; Says His Hitting and Fielding Are Improved.

By Jimmy Jones.

Big Fred Sington, looking as husky and broad shouldered as ever, stopped off at Atlanta yesterday en route to Duke University long enough to say that he has his heart set on winning an outfield job with the Atlanta Crackers this year.

Sington, who was one of Wallace Wade's greatest tackles at University of Alabama—being a member of the 1930 Rose Bowl champions and subsequently an All-American—had a big season at Beckley, W. Va., of the Middle Atlantic league last summer. Sent up there by the Crackers after the Columbus club disbanded, the big fellow hit 28 home runs and led the league in extra-base hits.

Charley Yates Returns Home After Winning Second Prize

Charley Yates, Georgia and Atlanta amateur golf champion, returned home Monday with a big silver plate which he won by virtue of finishing second in the amateur division of the Miami open last week.

It was erroneously reported in a news service dispatch from Miami that Yates would participate in the Miami mid-winter amateur tournament which began yesterday.

Reopening of classes at Georgia Tech, where he is a student, prevented Yates from tarrying longer in Miami. He returned here with Ernie Ball, who played in the professional division of the tournament.

The Miami open was won by John Revolta, of Menominee, Mich., with a 72-hole score of 278, which is good golf in anybody's tournament. Fact is, it earned for Revolta the title of "John, the Giant Killer."

Yates faced strong competition in his drive to capture second-place honors.

RING EXPERTS BELIEVE JACK PLANS TO DUCK

Sharkey Will Make One Easy Defense of Crown and Quit.

By Jack Cuddy, United Press Staff Correspondent.

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—(UP)—Dwight D. Eisenhower, who believes Jack Sharkey will retire with his heavy weight crown after one easy defense this summer.

The big fight planned to quit the ring after one defense, even before he won the championship. He admitted that to this writer and others at Orangeburg before wrestling the belt from Max Baer.

Schmeling, now the Madison Square Garden-Schmeling feud has paved the road for a graceful fade-away.

Jack has plenty of money, and Jack Sharkey, admittedly about $700,000; strangely enough he detests the fighter's life; he is smart enough to know it's about time to quit, and because of his personal pride and his respect for wife and family, he'd like the permanent title, "retired undefeated heavyweight champion."

Sharkey would have fought Schmeling this June if the German slugger had not been beaten by the champion, and gone in with Jack Dempsey for a bout with Max Baer. It can be said to the champion's credit that he's never been choosy about his opponents. The Harry Wills affair was a case in point.

Although he won the title fairly from Schmeling, Jack admitted today at St. Nicholas gymnasium, while watching Ernie Schaff train for Stanley Foreman, that the German slugger had an excellent chance to polish me off last year when I had that bad eye. But he didn't do it.

Most boxing experts believe Schmeling would have beaten the gob, possibly by a knockout, if he had made a slugging match of their last bout instead of playing into Sharkey's hands by trying to outbox him.

Fight followers believe Sharkey also knows this very well and that he is greatly relieved that Schmeling will not be his opponent this year; Eddie Stanley Poreta, Ernie Schaff or Primo Carnera, the three remaining probable opponents, should be a comparative "setup" for the champion.

Sharkey will carry out his contract with the Garden for a fight before the end of June, will keep his word about giving some challenges, and at the title and then will retire with flying colors.

Atlanta Pros Postpone Election

Atlanta's professional golfers at their annual meeting Tuesday morning at the Druid Hills club adopted an educational plan of information which will be presented to the National Golfers' Association for adoption at its summer meeting.

The plan as outlined briefly by Harry Stephens, president of the Atlanta association, is to keep in constant communication with all the large golf clubs in the country on the various developments of golf and also the progress from time to time of the most promising youngsters in each club. The plan met with the hearty approval of the Atlanta pros.

Election of officers scheduled for Tuesday was postponed until the next meeting, which will be held January 17 at the Ansley Park club with Tommy Wilson, Ansley Park, as host.

Those present at Druid Hills met were Harry Stephens, host; Ernie Lake; Howard Beckett, Capital City; Billy Wilson, Piedmont; Tommy Wilson, Ansley Park; Jimmy Livingston, Inglewood; Jeff Modie, John A. White; H. O. Davis Jr., James L. Key, and Wallace Lingquist, Candler Park.

One of the last survivors of the "old school" of baseball, Gleason died yesterday at the home of his only child, Mrs. M. M. Gleason, He had lived for 86 years since his wife, Mrs. Annie Gleason, died in 1928. He was 67 years old.

Due to the small membership in the Southern conference and the Southeastern conference it is probable that all members of the two leagues will be invited to participate in the tournaments to be held within these groups.

The Southern conference event will be held at Raleigh, N. C., where the Southeastern at Atlanta. There are 13 members of the Southeastern and 10 of the Southern.

SLUGGER LED CENTRAL LOOP LAST SEASON

And Also Middle Atlantic Year Before; Home Run Specialist.

By Jack Troy.

The third deal of the new Cracker baseball setup, involving the outright purchase from Washington of Ernest Gordon Phelps, catcher-first baseman-outfielder, was learned by The Constitution yesterday.

The purchase price was not revealed. Phelps, who is 24, was the "Babe Ruth" of the reorganized Central league last year. Playing with Youngstown, he hit 25 home runs and, in addition, led the league in hitting with an average of .375.

The year before playing with Youngstown, then in the Middle Atlantic league, he batted .408 for the season, to rank at the top of the league record for most hits in a season, with 178, and cracked out 15 home runs.

Phelps is 6 feet 6 inches tall, and weighs 210. He bats left-handed and throws right-handed.

For the last two spring training periods Phelps, who has been playing under the option of the Washington Senators since 1930, had tried out at Chattanooga.

"He hits the ball a mile and, by taking off some excess weight, will undoubtedly be a great prospect," said Bert Nichols, manager of the championship Lookout club, last night.

Washington originally signed Phelps as a catcher but he has played both outfield and first base since the Senators turned him loose on option.

After previously trying out with Biloxi and Chattanooga, he was picked up from the semi-pros at Bowie, Md., and signed as a free agent. He later played with Hagerstown and then went to Youngstown in the Middle Atlantic league. He was as has been stated, with Youngstown both in the Middle Atlantic and Central leagues.

He achieved fame by his tremendous hitting in 1932. Last year he played in 134 games. His record, besides the .375 batting average already noted, included 119 runs, 133 hits, 47 doubles, 6 triples and, of course, 25 home runs.

Other players signed to date by the new Cracker team, headed by Wilbert Robinson, are Art Weis, an outfielder, and Eddie Phillips, a catcher. Weis was purchased outright from Louisville and Phillips came by the same route from the Yankees.

The current season of the Cracker officials at Dover Hall, expected to reveal news of other plans for the forthcoming season.
